Shipping to Hayden.

A. V. Hayward, who located a group of five mines in Walnut Grove district a few days ago, is preparing to make his first shipment of 25 tons of gold ore to Hayden. He was in the city yesterday and stated if returns are satisfactory he will bring his Straub mill from Nevada.

Cattle Business.

Granville Fain was an arrival yesterday from Bloody Basin, one of the main range holdings of Fain, Heath & Co., later leaving for Phoenix to make arrangements for shipping several carloads of cattle from Mayer next week. He states cattle are in such excellent condition that they are ready for the block.

From Venezia.

Don Tomlinson was an arrival yesterday from the Venezia camp in Crook canyon, and states that property is in shape for resumption to begin in a few days, or after the arrival next week of his father from Nevada. During the past month preliminary work has been completed for this purpose, and the mine is ready for development.

Prosperous Outlook.

W. A. Frazier, the lumber merchant of Mayer, who is in the city is optimistic over the future of that community, since the Stoddard Milling Co. has made a big success in ore treatment and the Binghamton mine is proving a bonanza. Mine activity adjacent is now pronounced, and the country generally is advancing industrially.

Praises Climate.

W. E. Sorelle, a prominent attorney of Los Angeles is visiting with his friend, E. S. Clark of this city. He has just returned from a short trip to Jerome and is on his way to visit a daughter in Phoenix. Mr. Sorelle declares Prescott has the finest climate of any city in the United States and it may prove an inducement for him to locate here.

Comes to Visit.

Harry Fowler, who arrived during the week from near Blythe, Cal., after an absence of four months, comes back to Yavapai, he says, to cast his vote at the November election, as well as to visit for a few weeks with relatives in the Verde valley. He will make his home in California, having mining interests in the Riverside range.

Mining Business.

W. W. Elliott, manager of the Tip-top Consolidated Co., is in the city on a business trip for that mining proposition, and gives a good report of progress in unwatering and the showing made in old levels. The property is being operated mainly for the tungsten values carried in the ores, and as the old workings are exposed the tonnage is reported to be of such magnitude as to be incalculable.

Range Inspection.

Henry Braun, a livestock dealer of near Modesto, Cal., is in the city to make observations of the range country, with the intention of becoming an investor. He is accompanied by his son and daughter, the latter leaving today in auto on a sightseeing trip to the Verde valley and along Beaver creek. Brief Visitor.

Dick Wick Hall, well known in mining circles as an operator, was a brief visitor to the city yesterday, returning later in the day to his holdings near Salome, on the A. & C. road. He had been to the Jerome field on an inspection trip of a certain property.

Country Visitor.

William Ritter, rancher and cattleman of Kirkland valley, is in the city and reports both industries flourishing. He states that his aged father, who had three fingers blown off by a shotgun exploding while out hunting, again is in fine fettle to pull the trigger and is daily bringing in plenty of game.

Mining Men Arrive.

August Hagberg and Magnus Olsson, of Ironwood, Minn., both principals of the Big Pine Mining Co., were arrivals yesterday on a trip of inspection. Mine and mill are now in action, and reports from the camp near Senator are favorable for success. Mr. Hagberg has been a frequent visitor in recent years.

Business Trip.

Major W. W. Midgley, head of the Valinda Rancho, in Williamson valley passed through yesterday for Pomona, Cal., on a brief business trip. He states range conditions could not be better, and this season's farm crops also are gratifying, over 800 tons of hay being the product of his place. It will be used for winter feeding of livestock.

Inspection Trip.

Levi Young, of Phoenix, who has large land and livestock interests in the Black hills, was an arrival yesterday on an inspection trip, leaving today for the main camp on Mingus mountain. With only one exception Mr. Young is the heaviest individual taxpayer in Yavapai county, and he stated yesterday that with the closing of a certain deal he will reach the top of the column next year.

Mining Men Return.

A. L. Rosengarten, a prominently known mining operator of New York City, and his engineer, D. Creveling, were arrivals recently, to remain for an extended observation of properties in this section. They are at the Yavapai Club. Both visited this field a few months ago, and it is believed, they return to become interested in a group of coppers near this city. Mr. Rosengarten has large interests in Southern Arizona.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Mining Men Return.

Jules Baumann, a principal of the Baumann Mines Co., returned yesterday from the Eastern States after an absence of over a year in the interest of his property. Operations, he says, are to begin at once.

Mining Business.

Dr. C. F. Bowen, a principal of the Humboldt Consolidated Mining Co., has arrived from Los Angeles, to make an inspection of the holdings near the Silver Belt, and it is quite probable resumption will be decided upon. He leaves today for the camp.

Increases Force.

Louis LaBar, who is operating the Rainy Day mines of Copper Basin, which are reported under negotiation of sale, was a brief visitor to the city yesterday, stating that the force would be increased to complete the crosscut tunnel now in 240 feet. He returns to the camp today with an engineer, who represents prospective buyers.

Political Mission.

Doane Merrill, Republican candidate for State auditor, is in the city, and it is useless to state receives a welcome from many friends. He made Prescott his home until recent years, then removing to Benson. Merrill enjoys deserved popularity, and his business dealings in this and other sections for over a quarter of a century are still remembered as clean, upright and generous to all.

Return of Old-Timer.

Henry Goldwater, favorably known in this community as a pioneer resident, was an arrival Sunday from Seattle, this being his first visit to Prescott in nearly 15 years. He has retired from the furniture manufacturing business and is now engaged in mining in Western Arizona, near Quartzsite, having a large placer proposition under headway. He returned to the coast yesterday.

Popular Prescott Girl is Wedded In Los Angeles

MISS MARJORIE MILNES AND LYLE ABBOTT OF PHOENIX MARRIED AT THE PRO-CATHEDRAL.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

In the presence of immediate friends and relatives, Miss Marjorie Milnes of this city, and Mr. Lyle Abbott were united in marriage at the Pro-Cathedral in Los Angeles last Wednesday at high noon, the Rev. Dean McCormack officiating. Mrs. Muriel Parker, the cousin of the bride, acted as her bridesmaid while Mr. William Parker attended the groom.

A charming picture was the bride in her suit of white chiffon broadcloth with white hat of aigrettes. Her going-away gown was of Roman gold velvet with a French blue velvet toque. Mrs. Parker wore a burgundy broadcloth suit with moleskin trimming and hat to match, while Mrs. J. W. Milnes, the mother of the bride, was attired in a gown of blue crepe-de-chine with a white feather toque.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Alexandria hotel, and after its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Abbott left for San Diego to spend their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends after September 6th at the Arizona Apartments in Phoenix in which city, Mr. Abbott is city editor of the Arizona Republican, and where he is held in the highest esteem for his character and ability.

For quick and artistic job work, the Journal-Miner is the place.

VOTERS OF ALL PARTIES RALLY TO CAMPBELL

(From Friday's Daily.)

The Tom Campbell League is growing by leaps and bounds. From all over the county, the Yavapai man's friends are eager to add their little bit towards helping Campbell make an independent fight.

And it is not only the Republicans who are helping. One citizen of Bumble Bee who is registered as a Democrat writes:

"I intend to vote for Mr. Tom Campbell because I can't vote for the present governor and retain my self-respect and because I know that Tom Campbell has served the people faithfully. I don't vote for him because I am a Republican."

Another local Democrat writes: "I am enclosing $1 for membership in the Tom Campbell League. I have been a member of the executive committee that helped Governor Hunt into office. But I do not see how I can continue for him. It has been wisely said: 'A wise man changeth his mind, but a fool never.' I think every man in Yavapai should rally to Mr. Campbell's support since he has shown that he is a broad man and never fearful of doing his utmost for the welfare of the people of Arizona. He has all the qualifications to make one of the best governors Arizona has ever had. If at any time you need my services, they are yours."

In Prescott, the list of members is growing every day. "I am for Tom, first, last and all the time," writes one Prescott man who enclosed a check for $10. The whole State is looking to Yavapai county—Mr. Campbell's home county—and to Prescott, his home town. Every man and woman who wants to help secure for him the biggest possible majority should join the Tom Campbell League and send in the $1 membership fee, since every penny will be needed.

Just cut out the following blank and mail it to headquarters. They will do the rest. If you haven't a dollar to spare, mail in the enrollment blank, anyhow.

WARM GREETING FOR CAMPBELL IN PRESCOTT

said he found it difficult to distinguish the inmates.

"There are 75 livestock inspectors, with an expense of $4,909 a month to the State. I would abolish this and create a board of three members, with the power to appoint a secretary who was competent to handle livestock and who knew less about the meaning of railroad signals.

"The horticultural commission, which costs the State $18,000 a year, would include a bee inspector, saving $2,000. I believe $30,000 year could be saved, or a great part of it, by making some other arrangements for compiling the State history. I know that at least $1,200 a year for a chief clerk will be saved if I am elected.

"The game warden's department costs you $20,000 a year. The chief warden had offices next to mine while I was at the capitol and I never remember of seeing him do anything but write poetry about the governor. When I announced my candidacy he showed no partiality and wrote some about me.

"The State laboratory's expenses are $7,200 yearly. Ask any physician in Prescott if he was ever benefited by it.

"The inspector of weights and measures and many other offices would feel the weight of my hand if I were governor. I do not mean that I would abolish them all but I would see that the expense was somewhat smaller."

Campbell appealed to the voters of this city to go back over his past, public and private life and asked them if they could remember of him ever doing a dishonest act.

"I have been accused of entering into a compact with the United Verde Company to divide Yavapai county if I am elected governor," Campbell said, his voice unsteady. "The man who said it was a friend of mine, is a friend of yours. That man's name is John Kinney."

Campbell explained the unpleasant story that is being circulated regarding an episode that took place in Bisbee, early in the campaign. He said he was accused of entering an unfair restaurant knowingly and thus gained the enmity of the laboring class in that county.

"I leave it to you, those who have known me all my life, have I ever been unjust to the working class? Am I not a working man myself?"

"On the morning in question I entered the Copper Queen restaurant, which Congressman Hayden and Governor Hunt have patronized during the campaign. It was unable to secure a table and suddenly thought of a man named Truax who was running a restaurant in Bisbee. I sought it and had no more than passed into the door when I heard a man across the street shout like a megaphone that the place was unfair to organized labor. I saw Truax at the counter and after shaking hands with him he motioned me to one side and told me that I had better leave because he was being picketed by the union men.

"Not on your life, I told him. If I am never elected governor of the State, I will not resort to such petty politics and leave a friend who helped me out when I needed help."

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

Everybody's Friend

Friends, wait a moment. I have something to say. Heed what I tell you and the homage I pay. To the man of importance to you and to me. The good he has done later on you will see.

The time's drawing near, there's a question at heart. As American citizens, it's our duty to take part. In selecting our choice, a man to govern our State. Who will do it with justice, let's make no mistake.

Candidates we have two, Governor Hunt and Tom Campbell. The one most efficient some will say is a gamble. If you think for a moment e'er your thoughts start to ramble, You will have but one choice, and that one, Tom Campbell.

Prescott's his home; he was born in that town. Where he went to school, gaining fame and renown, He then entered college for a future career, Graduating with honors, a mining engineer.

His next step was politics as that was his fate. He was appointed postmaster in Jerome of this State. An office he held for six years or more. Resigning himself, to go prospecting for ore.

He came into our midst, you know what he's done, Brought money in the camp where before there was none. Gave work to the many which was hard for to find, Can you find a man better or one of his kind?

He has been county assessor for seven years or more, And I dare say, my friends, you have nothing to score, Against him or his office his methods or ways, He has filled it with justice, no matter who pays.

He has looked after our interests, the rich and the poor, Dealing justice alike, making his decisions, when sure. When it comes to the point no matter who is interested, The full amount you pay on all you've invested.

From the few things I've told you of Tom and his past, You readily can see, we have a man to the last, A man if elected, will do his best, I am sure, For the good of us all, the rich and the poor.

If you are in doubt as to whom to select, From what I have told you, you know the man to elect, There's only one man, let's ring loud his name, Tom Campbell, Tom Campbell, long may he reign!

Curley Desmond, Jerome, Ariz.

After his explanation it was several minutes before the speaker could continue on account of the applause. He told of his experiences in that section where many of the laboring men hooted and hurled missiles at him, when he got on the platform, and refused to listen to an explanation.

"At one meeting a miner asked me if I believed in mines being owned by non-residents of the State. I asked him if he believed in having outside capital come in and work the mines. And you will hardly believe it but he told me "no" and his answer received the applause of about 500 of his fellow-workers. That is the kind of men with whom I have to deal in some parts of the south. And with those kind of men being encouraged by the present administration no outside capital ever will care to come in to the State."

Campbell appealed to his audience, regardless of politics, to think over what he had said and urged them to select for the next governor, one who was for the people, regardless of wealth or party.

Henry L. Eads, candidate for congress; Doane Merrill, candidate for auditor and bank examiner; John L. Gust, seeking the office of attorney general, and H. E. Matthews, candidate for superintendent of public instruction, gave short addresses. All of them devoted most of their time to praising Tom Campbell and congratulating Prescott for being honored with such a distinguished citizen as "the next governor of Arizona."

EMPEROR HAS NARROWESCAPE FROM BOMB

PARIS, Oct. 28.—A bomb dropped by an aviator of the Entente Allies killed the engineer driving the train of Emperor William of Germany, according to information received at Zurich, Switzerland.

Emperor William recently was reported to be at Bapaume, on the Somme front, personally overseeing the preliminaries for a counter offensive for which the German troops there were said to have received strong reinforcements.

Apparently during this visit he delivered a brief speech to the German troops, thanking them for the "heroic manner" in which they had fought for four months.

On Monday last the emperor was in Berlin on a brief visit, conferred with the imperial chancellor and visited the palace at Potsdam.
